NEWS RELEASE: American Compounding Co-Founder Randy Rudisill Succumbs

American Compounding announced today that co-founder Randolph E. Rudisill has passed away after a courageous battle with illness. Mr. Rudisill had a long and successful career in the thermoplastics industry, culminating in the formation of American Compounding in 2005.

David Donie, co-founder, stated “Randy was my partner, mentor and friend for many years. I will miss his leadership and friendship. Randy’s example of honesty, integrity, business ethics and community service will continue to guide us for many years to come. Randy was diagnosed 18 months ago and, as always, prepared diligently with Dave. There will be no impact to our stakeholders.”

Randy is survived by his wife Sally and daughter Annie. A memorial service will be scheduled for a later date.

American Compounding Specialties is a science-based toll compounder (contract manufacturer) of high performance thermoplastics currently based in Fowlerville, Michigan.
